TWO DIED in this spectacular accident on Lovejoy rd. Sunday evening. The car came to rest on its roof, as pictured here, and four of the five persons in the vehicle were trapped there until a wrecker was able to pry the doors loose. Full details in the news story below. (Staff Photo)

Promise Decision On Renewal By Oct. 10

Brook Project Moves Forward

Rogers Brook bids will be advertised during the last week of October, according to word received from Representative Arthur Williams.

He quoted Waterways Division Director John Bradford as stating that all other details can be cleared up by that time. Usually, at least 15 days is allowed for bids, followed by an award. This would bring construction to mid-November.

However, Rep. Williams noted that the open work can be done, as long as there isn't too much snow. Some of the concrete work would possibly be delayed, if the weather is too harsh.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and the Selectmen will have a chance to look at the latest plans - and the specifications - before

Forum Will Be Held That Night

The Selectmen are headed for a show-down on Urban Renewal.

Chairman Russell G. Doyle told the Townsman this week that the Board will come to grips with the problem, and try to reach a decision, prior to Oct. 10.

That night, the Board of Trade has invited the Selectmen, Planning Board and Finance Committee, along with all interested citizens, to a discussion meeting.

To be held in the Memorial Auditorium, the session is designed to get some final facts and opinions from officials of the town, and from the Housing Authority, which is responsible for the Urban Renewal plan.

Trade Board president Raymond B. DeRuisseau, in announcing the meeting, commented that it seems necessary to get some plain facts, and some expressions of opinion, from the town boards most concerned with the proposal.

Mr. Doyle, who has been urging his Board to make up its collective mind on the subject, feels that

2 Killed In Car Crash

In a spectacular early-evening accident Sunday, two men lost their lives, and three others were seriously injured when their car slammed into a tree on Lovejoy rd.

The vehicle flipped over on its roof, trapping four of the occupants inside for over a half hour. Only the arrival of a wrecker from the Shawsheen Motor Mart enabled police to get the doors pulled loose. Rene Bellanger, who operated the wrecker, was able to crawl into the car and pry loose the twisted metal that held the occupants. An additional problem resulted from golf carts and golf clubs, which had fallen around the victims.

Killed in the crash were the operator of the car, Albert DiNardo, 39, 15 Marshall st., North

Propose Plan For 7 Years

A capital expenditure program for seven years has been tentatively presented to town officials, which would cost nearly 9 1/2 million dollars.

The consulting firm of Adams, Howard and Greeley prepared the report for Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, and will further revise the figures before presenting a final recommendation by budget time.

The plan lists actual expenditures from tax revenue or available funds, during the seven years, as $5,410,100. The remaining amount would be covered in bond issues which will not mature during the seven years.

Frank Mooney Will Be New Postmaster

FRANCIS J. MOONEY

Francis J. Mooney has been named "acting postmaster" - and presumably will be designated as the permanent postmaster after taking a civil service examination.

Announcement of the appointment came from the office of Senator Benjamin Smith in Washington, which was reached by telephone by the Townsman.

A spokesman there said a non-competitive examination will be held, according to normal procedure, prior to a final appointment.

Mr. Mooney has been serving as "assistant postmaster in charge" of the local office since June 29 of this year.

A career postal employee, he joined the local service Oct. 26, 1936 and was appointed assistant postmaster July 1, 1945. He served for many years with Stephen A. Boland, whose retirement this year created the vacancy.

Confirmation of the appointment in Washington ended months of waiting for Mr. Mooney, and for several other local men who had

Anticipate New High School

Andover may have a new high school by 1965, or even sooner.

Steps leading to the request for an appropriation were to be taken last night at the School Committee meeting, following hard on the heels of a recommendation that a full appropriation of $2,300,000 be sought in 1963.

Planning consultants Adams, Howard and Greeley urged the town to start the school promptly, to be ready for the anticipated need in 1965.

But the words were hardly out of planner Jack Schoop's mouth when School Board Chairman Robert McIntyre startled the meeting of town boards by predicting that needs of 1965 must be met in 1963, based on growing school population.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING WEDNESDAY

A full-dress meeting of the Board of Trade will be held Oct. 3, at 10 a.m., at the meeting room in the Library.

The Board of Directors will report on action being taken on Urban Renewal matters, including the Oct. 10 forum at the Memorial Auditorium. Coffee will be available.

Swampscott Beat Andover, 18-14

Swampscott narrowly edged the Blue Devils of Andover High last Saturday, 18-14.

The local team led, 6-0, in the third period, but Swampscott scored all of its points in that period. The first came after Swampscott took over on the Andover five, after a center snap went over the punter's head. That, with two-points added by rushing after the TD, put Swampscott ahead 8-6. Then Swampscott men tackled Andover's Jim Brent in the end zone, for a safety, adding two more.

Later in the period, Swampscott drove 36 yards for a touchdown, added the two points, and was ahead, 18-6.

Andover's Kent Warner scored from the five, and the two points were added, during the fourth period. In the opening period of the game, Ralph Dockray scored from the 10.

Danvers is at the Playstead Saturday, after their 6-6 tie with Gloucester.

THIS IS WHAT the car looked like, after it had crashed into a tree on Lovejoy rd. Sunday night. Two were killed and three seriously injured in the accident. The vehicle, quite obviously, was demolished. (Staff Photo)

Reading and Alan Finn, 36, 10 Marshall st., that town.

In the Lawrence General Hospital at this writing are Mrs. Eleanor DiNardo, whose condition is said to be improved; Warren Schaefer, 36, 12 Marshall st., North Reading and his wife, Clementine. Mr. Schaefer was thrown out of the vehicle after the impact.

Police are still attempting to reconstruct the details of the accident at mid-week, and are also awaiting the medical examiner's report.

They stated that the group of five had been at the Indian Ridge Country Club, which held open house over the weekend.

Mrs. Barbara Puzio, 40 Lovejoy rd., in front of whose home the accident occurred about 7:30, notified police.

When Officers Donald Howard and Jacob Jacobson arrived, four persons were trapped in the car, while Mr. Schaefer was thrown clear. Officers William Tammany, Roy A. Russell and Arthur Manock were also assigned to the scene.

Lt. William T. Downs was in charge of a fire department detail sent to the area to wash down gasoline spilled from the wrecked car.

Pressed into use for ambulance duty was the Lawrence Fire Department ambulance, which helped take the victims to the hospital. The police department station wagon, now serving as the town's only ambulance, also was on hand for duty.

The car struck the tree on the left front, then spun around the tree and flipped onto its roof. The radiator was pointed towards Lovejoy rd., as it came to rest on the lawn.

Many neighbors gathered at the scene, and there was considerable speculation as to whether the solid white line on the road might have been mistaken for a center stripe. The line is a short distance from the edge of the paved road, and is designed to mark the area where children can walk to and from the new Henry C. Sanborn School.

Miss Janet Workman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Workman of Beech cir., left recently to assume her studies at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Ambulance Here By Next Week

A replacement ambulance should be on duty at the fire station, at least by the first of next week.

Bids on a new vehicle were opened Wednesday morning, and included in the specifications was a temporary replacement, until the new ambulance can be delivered.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said action to transfer funds for the purchase of a new vehicle should be approved late this week - and the successful bidder will immediately provide a replacement for the town's broken-down emergency vehicle.

Bids were received from H. P. Woodworth of Shawsheen, on a Superior Cadillac, net $11,383; Ambulance and Hearse Sales of New England, Lexington, a Motor-Meteor Cadillac, $12,250; and from Jewett's Sales Corp. of Worcester, $13,592.60. Bids are currently being studied, before an award is made. The Lexington firm also offered two alternates, which Mr. Duff said are not being considered.

WORKSHOP FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Charles G. Baker, president of the Andover Garden Club, wishes to announce that there will be a workshop, held at the Bay State Bank, Oct. 4, Oct. 18 and Oct. 25, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Robert Richards will discuss "Advanced Flower Arrangement"

This Workshop will be limited to members of previous courses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Everett Collins have been visiting Major (ret) and Mrs. John B. Collins in Arlington, Va.

Pilgrim Fellowship Cooked Breakfast

A breakfast, cooked in the open, was held at the West Church last Saturday morning and was enjoyed by a large group of young people, members of the Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship.

The Rev. Karl Donfried, religious director, was in charge, assisted by Warren Lewis. Following the breakfast the group enjoyed a soft ball game.

Last Sunday evening, the Junior Pilgrim Fellowship met in the Vestry at 5 and following the devotional service, slides were shown of Europe.

HONORED AT COFFEE HOUR

Mrs. Henry James held a Coffee Hour at her home on Greenwood rd. Monday morning, honoring Mrs. Theodore Kauppilis, now living on Beacon st., but who is soon to move with her family to Greenwood rd.

Neighbors and friends living on Greenwood rd. gathered to welcome Mrs. Kauppilis. The pourers for the occasion were Mrs. Herbert Lake and Mrs. Walter Whinn.

She is an ordained Congregational-Christian minister and has served many churches. From 1936-1946 she was a member of the faculty of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary. League To Hear About Renewal

Urban Renewal Director Ernest N. Hall, Town Manager, Thomas E. Duff, Selectmen, B. Allen Rowland, William Stewart and chairman Russell G. Doyle, Planning Board Members Virginia Hammond and Robert Goodwin will attend the "fact presentation" unit meetings on Urban Renewal of the Andover League of Women Voters which are scheduled for Oct. 2 and 4.

In order that all the available information about Urban Renewal may be presented to the widest possible number of citizens, the League is inviting all interested men and women of the community to attend these unit meetings.

Mrs. Bernard Ristuccia, chairman of the Urban Renewal Study Committee of the League, emphasizes that although the League has studied the question of Urban Renewal in Andover for the past two years, the League has taken no position on Urban Renewal.

Tuesday unit meetings are scheduled for 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Barss, Hidden Field, Phillips Academy; and for 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. D. B. Woodworth, 22 Wolcott ave. Mr. Hall, Mr. Rowland, and Mrs. Hammond will attend the Tuesday morning meeting, and Mr. Stewart and Mr. Goodwin will attend the Tuesday evening meeting.

Thursday unit meetings are scheduled for 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Popiel, 25 McKenney cir., and for 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Nathan Tufts, 61 Porter rd. Town Manager Duff will speak Thursday morning, and Mr. Doyle Thursday evening.

Mr. Hall, Urban Renewal director, will attend all four unit meetings.

Community Concerts Planning Drive

The yearly one week drive for membership in the local Community Concerts Association was launched Sunday with a buffet dinner at 6:30 in the Fiesta Room of Speare House, Lowell. Representatives of the Greater Lawrence area were on hand for membership kits and up to date information on guest stars for the coming year.

As in the past, the series will offer a group of outstanding attractions designed to bring the best of the music world to the area in the 1962-'63 season. The Community Concert plan has made concerts an established institution in approximately 1,000 communities of all sizes on the continent. It brings to the small community the attractions usually only available in Carnegie Hall and similar areas of huge populations. Concerts locally usually are held in the Little Theatre at Lowell State College.

Those attending the kick-off dinner and who may be called for further information include: Miss E. Evelyn Kellett, Lawrence, Chairman of the 1962-'63 membership drive; Miss Judith Branz, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baer, Mrs. Paul P. Gyrsting, Mrs. Marion Kaye, Miss Mary Lanigan, Miss Charlotte Shaw and Mrs. J. J. Tavern.

Robert Nault, 131 North Main st., has returned for his third year at Lowell Technological Institute.

LIBRARY VISIT

Homemaker Service To Be Provided

A new United Fund agency - the "Homemaker Service" - is recruiting help.

Mrs. Cathleen J. Sheehan, director, is looking for any interested woman, who will be interested in working as a "homemaker" during family emergencies. Such a person would be provided for a family if some crisis threatened to disrupt the household.

She would do light housekeeping, cook, take care of children and run errands - but her primary task would be to act as a homemaker, not a domestic.

A recruiting committee is busy looking for volunteers, and feels that many older women may be interested in this activity, although they are not specially interested in commercial employment.

The office of the service is located at 31 Jackson st., Lawrence, and inquiries may be made there.

Radio "Bee Line" To Save Ships

Thirty Coast Guard cutters will soon be steering an "electronic bee line" to the rescue using the newest radio direction finders that give the helmsman a "buzz" when he yaws from the most direct course to the disabled vessel. In addition, a needle warns him visually should he stray off course while homing on radio signals sent out by vessels in distress.

The radio direction finders purchased from Raytheon Company have separate loop antennas and cover the Consolan band, radio beacon band and marine band. The distress frequency and four other popular channels used particularly by commercial fishermen and pleasure boatmen are pre-tuned by crystals for precise reception without manual tuning.

When not in use for rescue operations the RDFs will be used as additional radio receivers listening for "Maydays" on the distress frequencies.

Miss Ebba Peterson, who has been spending the summer months with relatives in town, left for her home in Ocala, Fla., Monday.

Miss Judith Gilcreast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast of Highland rd., has resumed her studies at Mount Holyoke College, after spending the summer in California.

Miss Barbara Klie of Rolling Ridge rd. has resumed her studies at Ursinus College in Collegeville, Pa.

PORTABLE SPACE HEATERS ARE NOW OUTLAWED

Any portable, wick-type, oil-burning space heater is now illegal in any building where people live.

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton called the public's attention to the new statute this week, noting that the law became effective July 9.

The portable space heaters have been blamed by fire officials in a number of cases throughout the state where persons were badly injured as the result of a fire. Anyone having questions as to the type of heater they use should call the chief.

Harvest Festival Coming Oct. 26-27

As part of the preparation for the South Church Harvest Festival, to be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27, the Tuesday morning Coffee Workshop is in the full flush of its final phase.

Ladies, old and young, meet from 10 a.m. to noon to sip coffee and turn out dozens of fascinating handmade items such as aprons, "Gretel" dolls, and "Rebecca Pig" burglar proof banks.

There is still work to be done. All who would like to help are welcome. Child care is provided.

The Harvest Festival is sponsored by the Women's Fellowship under the general direction of co-chairmen Mrs. Philip K. Ryder and Mrs. Jason C. Wright.

Miss Ruth Haradon of Greenwood rd. has enrolled at Boston University.

YWCA Program In Lawrence

In order to avoid duplication of services, the Andover Y.W.C.A. Committee decided to set up no program for the fall in this town.

It was felt that the recreation director for the town should be allowed time to develop his program first, then, if there still seemed to be an area in which a need was not being met, the Y.W. might try to supplement with its resources.

In the meantime, however, a full program is still available at the Greater Lawrence Y.W.C.A. building, which is well located, with an excellent parking lot directly in back of it.

On Thursday mornings, the day when classes had been held at the Andover Youth Center, both ceramics and cone wreaths are scheduled. Wednesdays, when a supervised playroom service is provided, there are many courses - badminton, entertaining, knitting, moderate exercise, rug braiding, sewing, swimming, trimnastics and water color. This last class is to be one in landscape painting for beginners, taught by Mrs. Robert Hatton of Andover.

Italian language for the advanced beginner is scheduled Thursday evenings, and fencing Tuesday nights.

"Adventure at One" is a new idea for those who want to attend occasionally, but cannot come regularly Thursday afternoons, and it will offer a varied program.

For listings of other courses, or for information about those mentioned, women should contact the Greater Lawrence Y.W.C.A. office.

Mrs. A. M. Wilson of Cheever cir. is the chairman of the Andover Committee and a member of the Y.W. Board of Directors.

Wait 3 Weeks For Road Bids

A contract for Chapter 90 reconstruction on Lovejoy rd., from Dascomb rd. to the new school, may be awarded in three weeks.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has been promised by the state Department of Public Works that bids will be sought without delay. However, it will take at least the three-week period to receive bids and make the award.

Duff has stated that every effort will be made to install the sidewalk in that section this year.

The walk is included in the plans for the road, but the cost of this portion is underwritten by the town alone.

The state determined some months ago that it would not participate in the sidewalk construction under Chapter 90, even though it is made part of the contract.

PLAN PROPOSED FOR SEVEN YEARS

Department heads, the Selectmen, town manager and affected boards and committees listened to a presentation of the plan Monday night. They were asked for all final comments and suggestions, so that a final draft can be prepared.

Presenting the plan was consultant Jack Schoop, who also is involved in planning work for the Planning Board.

In his discussion, Mr. Schoop noted that projects scheduled during the seven years have been arranged in such a way as to maintain a proper ratio between the cost of major projects and the annual budget. He also explained that projects listed are those given to him by the various boards and department heads, and the cost figures are those supplied by the departments.

The firm set up a priority listing, based on what appears to be needed the most, and at the same time tried to keep the tax rate from rising sharply in any one year.

Rate Increases

Projected estimates of the tax rate show that accomplishment of the various projects would mean a rate of $32, 1963, $30.70 in '64, $31.90 in 1965, $33.60 in 1966, $34.40 in 1967, $35.10 in 1968, $36.30 in 1969 and $37.90 in 1970.

These figures are based on tax income without the benefit of industrial growth during those years. The general rate would remain the same in 1963 and 1964, with or without industry. But during the remaining five years of the plan, projected industrial growth could reduce the rate by as much as 2-3 dollars.

Urban Renewal Included

Included in the plan, as an integral part of its financial analysis, is the town's costs under Urban Renewal.

Mr. Schoop told the gathered officials that preparation of an alternate plan, without adding Urban Renewal, could not be accomplished at this point, without extensive overhaul of the entire plan.

There was some sentiment among officials that it would be welcome to see the capital expenditures plan alone, without Urban Renewal costs, so that these could be segregated.

What are the recommended projects in the next seven years?

Projects During 1963

In 1963, the following recommendations are made:

Annual requests, coming up year after year: Sidewalks, town-wide, $10,000 annually; street surfacing, $20,000 a year from 1966-1968 - between 1963 and 1965, Urban Renewal street surfacing is included under another section; Chapter 90 highway construction, $15,000 annually; water system improvements, $90,000 in 1963, $93,400 in 1964, $81,000 in 1965, $100,000 in 1966 through 1970; storm drainage, $20,000 a year in 1965 and 1966, $50,000 a year in 1967 and 1968 - Rogers Brook is included as storm drainage under the Urban Renewal figures, within this plan.

The 1963 projects, as recommended by the consultants, are:

Forest fire truck, $7,500; town hall, police and fire stations, $1,000,000; Lovejoy rd. sidewalk $45,000; Rogers Brook drainage, part one, $170,000; police radios, $3,300 as matching funds with C. D.; Pomp's Pond bath house, $12,000; High School play fields, $35,000 yearly for three years, $25,000 in 1966; school site acquisition, $150,000; new senior high school, $2,300,000; Dascomb rd. area sanitary sewer, $372,000; Lovejoy rd. sewer, $71,000; Urban Renewal street improvements, $56,500; Urban Renewal cash payment for town's share, $150,000.

The explanatory text indicates that, without Urban Renewal, a town hall and police station are needed, but the fire station might serve for several years before replacement is needed.

Details on the new high school financing will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The cash payment under Urban Renewal is recommended by the consultants - but they also suggest that the town could spend this same amount of money on municipal parking within the Urban Renewal area and get the equivalent credit.

The recommended projects to be delayed, under the plan, are the municipal garage improvement, Library addition, expansion of the Shawsheen and Central playgrounds and sanitary sewer improvements.

And In 1964

Requests approved for 1964, under the plan, are:

West Andover fire station, $207,500; wading pool at Pomp's Pond, $20,000; Urban Renewal street improvements, $51,700.

Deferred 1964 requests are:

Sanitary sewer improvements, to 1965; tree department building, to 1966.

1955 Projects Approved

Requests to be granted in 1965 are:

Rogers Brook, part two, $136,500; Library addition, $235,000; picnic facilities at Pomp's Pond, $15,000 in 1965 and equal amount in 1966; sanitary sewer improvements, $1,290,000; Urban Renewal street improvements, $56,200; Fish Brook dam, $625,000.

Deferred until some other time is the winter facility request for Pomp's Pond.

More Projects, 1966-'70

In 1966, the following approvals are noted:

Municipal garage, $100,000; ladder truck, $65,000; recreation center, $200,000; Central and Shawsheen playground expansion, $100,000.

Deferred are the camping area at Pomp's Pond and playground pavilions, to 1967.

The 1967 requested projects are:

Fire pumper, $26,000; sports area, Pomp's Pond, $30,000 this year, another $30,000 in 1968; playground pavilions, $20,000.

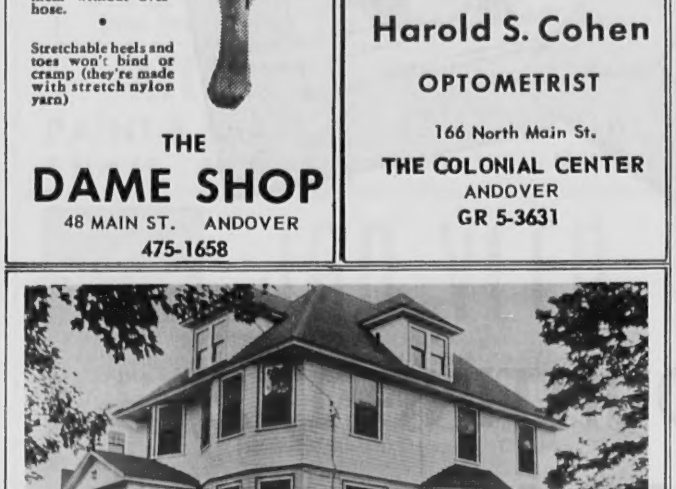

Deferred indefinitely is the Pomp's Pond pavilion.

In 1968, under the plan, the following projects would be approved:

Third part of Rogers Brook drainage, $125,000; wading pool at Central playstead, $20,000.

In the year 1969, approved is a wading pool at the playground at the Sanborn School, at $20,000; and deferred is the amphitheatre at Pomp's Pond.

Approved in 1970 is a bookmobile, $75,000.

Map Plans For United Fund

Taking time off from a busy work day to participate in the community's most important civic endeavor, a group of Andover businessmen and women met this week to make plans for getting the Andover United Fund Drive for 29 major health and welfare drives off to a good start under the leadership of Chairman Joseph B. Doherty and Vice Chairman Clement W. Rodden.

Volunteer workers in this division are: William F. Hickey, Mrs. Grayce Reilly, Irving Whitcomb, Albert Retelle, Robert Phinney, David Woodworth, Edmund Cote, John Zenevitch, Robert M. Henderson, Arthur Spirdione, Lee Noyes, Burton Jenkins, John Hewitt, Ronald Reader, Douglas N. Howe, Charles Shattuck and Kenneth P. Thompson.

Meet Wednesday On Halloween Plan

Preliminary Halloween plans will be discussed at a meeting called by Leslie S. Bartow, Andover's Recreation Director, Wednesday, Oct. 3.

Any group or organization which has traditionally looked to the town for assistance in running Halloween parties is invited to send a representitive to a planning meeting in the town hall. The meeting will be held in the Director's office, at 8 p.m.

Requests for backing of parties have been coming in to Bartow. Because there is a limit to what the Recreation Department may do, he is interested in meeting with all groups at one time. In this way an equitable apportionment may be made early enough so that each group will know how much assistance it may plan on.

For further information, Mr. Bartow may be reached at the Town Hall.

Department Meeting Scheduled Oct. 3

The Shawsheen Women's Club Literature-Current Events Department will meet at the home of Mrs. William Bailey, 12 Arcadia rd., Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 9:30 a.m.

A business meeting will precede the program. Mrs. Lewis Putnam's topic will be "Your Fall Reading".

Each member may bring a potentially interested member to this meeting.

Peace Corps Tests Scheduled

Peace Corps placement tests will be held at Civil Service Commission testing centers throughout the nation Saturday, Sept. 29, at 8:30 a.m.

Those who take the test will be considered for new Peace Corps projects in Asia, Africa, Latin America, the West Indies and the South Sea Islands.

Peace Corps opportunities abroad cover many fields-teaching, nursing, engineering, plumbing, carpentry, agriculture, architecture, medicine, home economics, city planning, geology, physical education and rural and urban community development.

Applicants must be American citizens of at least 18 years of age. There is no upper age limit. Married couples without dependent children may apply providing both qualify for Peace Corps service.

Many who take the tests will be applicants who have sent in a Peace Corps questionnaire since the last round of testing in June. But interested persons who have not yet filled out a questionnaire will also be permitted to take the tests on a space-available basis.

Each person will be given his choice of two types of placement tests. One is for men and women who would like to be considered for positions as teachers. For this, a bachelor's degree is generally required, although the applicant does not have to be an accredited teacher.

The other test is for everyone else who wants to serve in the Peace Corps.

While some projects call for technical skills, many others require men and women without specialized, technical training. Among these are liberal arts graduates - often assigned to community development work - and people with general farming backgrounds for agricultural projects.

MAY BUILD NEW HIGH SCHOOL

"We may even reach 1965 enrollment figures by 1963", he stated, while discussing where school needs fit into a capital expenditure program.

The session Monday night was held at the town hall, with all departments represented.

Following the meeting, Mr. McIntyre commented that the first step seems to be a determination of whether the present school can be nearly doubled in capacity. Funds for at least this study will be sought in November, at the special town meeting on Urban Renewal.

It is also possible - but a decision had not been reached prior to Townsman press time this week - that money for preliminary plans will also be requested. If this is done, action could be taken at the annual town meeting in March to appropriate construction funds. If accomplished, the school would presumably be ready by the fall of 1964.

The planning consultants brought to a head a discussion that has been going on for some time - either build a new high school and use the present building for a second junior high, or construct a new junior high and also add a lot of space to the high school.

The consultants felt that a new high school will thus provide two junior highs - the existing one, plus the present high school.

Then, they stated, demands for extra space brought about by growing elementary school populations can be met by using rooms in these two junior high buildings. For example, it was suggested that the present junior high might eventually house an entire grade six, if this was found to be practical.

There was considerable insistence on the part of the School Committee Monday night that funds be retained in the program for school site acquisition. The Committee already has indicated its desire for two more sites in West Andover and perhaps a third site in the southern section of town.

Although the availability of rooms in one of the two junior high schools might answer some immediate problems in the elementary schools, it was felt that, sooner or later, the town will be faced with building these structures, too. The amount of $150,000 has been recommended in the capital expenditure program for site acquisition for the schools, in the belief that authorizing the funds next year will speed up the process of selection and procurement.

AT WHEATON COLLEGE

Miss Thelma Watson, 17 Strawberry Hill rd., is enrolled as a freshman student at Wheaton college, Illinois, for the 1962-'63 school year.

She attended Andover High School, where she was active in girls' glee club, choral society, student council, and served as yearbook photography editor, newspaper news editor, class vice president, service club president and leaders' corps chairman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson.

A liberal arts college of high academic standards, Wheaton enjoys a distinctive Christian emphasis in all of its activities. It is rated Class A by the University of Illinois, is a member of the North Central association, and is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities. Its enrollment is limited to 1600 full-time undergraduate and 100 graduate students.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Daytime Safety First

It is essential that residents of the town keep some perspective on the fatal accident on Lovejoy rd. Sunday night.

One correspondent, in a letter printed in today's issue, mentions the white lines painted on the street as being a possible cause.

And of course there is some general blame credited to the condition of the road, with or without the lines.

What we should keep in mind here is that accidents happen for many reasons — that this one occurred on Lovejoy rd. does not necessarily mean it was caused by the conditions on the street or the man-made white lines.

We do not know the cause of the accident — perhaps it was the result of many factors, including the street condition and possibly the white line.

We must not, however, unwaveringly fasten the blame for the crash on the condition of the street, nor should we panic now and put into effect traffic controls that otherwise would not be required.

Actually, the safety of the children walking to school in daylight and traffic control on the street after dark are separate considerations. They should be treated as such, providing for the children's protection first. This means either a bus transportation schedule along the narrow thoroughfare until sidewalks are installed or a continuation of the present system, in which a crossing guard walks the length of the street with the patrols.

Master Plan For Sidewalks

A few weeks ago, while residents near Lovejoy rd. were protesting to the School Committee about walking conditions there, a suggestion was made that a study of sidewalk conditions throughout the town should be made.

The idea makes sense.

We obviously have many streets, leading to schools, where there are no sidewalks, and where the road is narrow enough to be dangerous.

It was thought at that time that there is no up-to-date list of such conditions, and that a sidewalk construction program can not be started until such a list is prepared.

Wouldn't it be good judgment to put sidewalks in a capital expenditure program — for the safety of the children — ahead of less vital fun items?

We think the town should find out the sidewalk requirements surrounding every school — then plan a sensible program that would result in actual construction over a few years.

Last Party For 1st Graders

With this Thursday afternoon's party for children from South and Sanborn Elementary schools at 3:45 o'clock, the first grade parties for this fall will come to a close. This year, with larger enrollments in all parts of the school system it was necessary to divide the "party" hour into four afternoons. Miss Margaret Lane, Children's librarian, greeted the youngest members of the library's family, and gave mothers and children a brief introduction to all that the library is and can offer to them. There was a story and light refreshments served. Those first graders who can write or print both first and last names have been filling in their registration cards at each of the parties and were allowed to take books home.

It has been a popular and practical program to bring mother and child together for the first grade parties. The child feels at home after this first visit; the mother has discovered for herself where the child is going to spend many hours as he makes use of the library materials, and both have a sense of being on familiar territory when the library is mentioned.

Great Books

Come along to the first meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group, Tuesday evening, Oct. 2 at 7:30 in the Memorial Hall Library. This invitation is extended to all who have any curiosity about a program for adult readers that has brought together a number of persons of varied backgrounds, interests and tastes and provided them with an interesting, exciting and pleasant experience for several years. Each meeting has a book for discussion, or a section of a long work. It may be a play, a treatise, a book of fiction, an epic, philosophy, history, economics, religion - but in each case the book speaks for itself and stands on its own merits.

The opening discussion is Sir Thomas Browne's "Religio Medici."

Littlest Listeners

Applications may still be made for one of the three divisions of Littlest Listeners, the pre-school group which meets once in two weeks at the library for stories and activities. Slips to be signed may be obtained in both children's and adult department and in the branch room at Ballardvale.

The opening meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 10 for the Cardinals and Thursday, the following day, for the Ballardvale group, the Sparrows. On the following Wednesday the Robins meet. All have their programs from 10 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.

Here Are Some Facts About Urban Renewal

In an effort to answer some of the questions asked about Urban Renewal, the Townsman has prepared these questions and answers. They will help to resolve some of the basic questions heard on every side.

They are not an end-all in themselves - other questions no doubt have occurred to residents of the community. The Townsman will attempt to get an answer from responsible officials, for any resident who wishes to present a question to us.

During the next few weeks, we will present additional material, in question and answer form, covering the cost factors, market area, possibility of private enterprise doing the job, etc. Every question that comes to our attention, which seems pertinent to the subject, will be covered fully.

In this way, we hope to be of service to our townspeople, as they attempt to clarify their thinking on this vital subject.

* * * *

What is Urban Renewal?

In Andover, it is a land assembly and redevelopment project primarily for the business area, but including some of the surrounding residential properties.

Land assembly?

Many of the parcels of land making up the area are purchased by the Housing Authority and "assembled" into larger tracts that are assigned specific uses, such as commercial, public housing, office buildings, etc.

What if a property owner doesn't want to sell?

The Authority has eminent domain power, and can seize the property.

Who sets the price?

First, the Authority tries to negotiate with the owner to agree on a purchase price. This is based on two independent appraisals by the Authority and the owner's idea of what the property is worth. This is one way to set the price.

If negotiations fail, the Authority seizes the property. Then an offer is made, and either accepted or rejected by the owner. Eventually the case may wind up in court, for an ultimate decision on the price.

Once the Authority gets the properties, does it tear them down?

Not right away, maybe not for quite a long time. As long as the buildings are standing, they remain in use, the Authority collects rent and pays the town taxes. It's at this stage that the term "redevelopment" comes in.

Is there a plan for this?

At the moment, no. The Authority is not supposed to plan for rebuilding - this is the province of a developer, who wants to build stores and office buildings on the land. Interest has been shown, but no developer is yet definitely committed to the project.

Can he build any kind of building?

No. First, a developer presents a plan for the use of a parcel, within the land-use specified by the Authority. Buildings are still standing on the land when he presents his plan. He must conform to many regulations, restrictions and requirements adopted by the town.

Who approves it?

Three boards must concur - Planning Board, Selectmen and Housing Authority. If one of these three doesn't like the plan, it can be refused.

If it's approved, what then?

This is the time when the buildings are razed, and the land prepared for the developer to go to work.

Can't any of the buildings be saved?

The town is waiting for a legal definition - but it appears that maybe one or two could be saved, if the developer specifically requests it and the local and federal authorities all approve. Thus there might be extremely limited rehabilitation, on a very small scale, within the present plan. But this is not yet assured.

Why doesn't the Authority tear down most of the buildings in the area right away, to make way for several developers at once?

In this kind of program, here in Andover, buildings are torn down only after there is an approved plan for re-building on the parcel. There are no great, vacant spaces for months and years.

Because federal money is involved, can the government tell us what to put in the buildings - the houses, the stores?

No. Other than requiring the town to avoid discrimination, the government can not tell the town what to do. That is, the town can not be forced to take specific groups of families and put them in local housing, or special types of stores, or any other special category. The local Authority can not even regulate what stores are allowed in the retail area - this is the responsibility of the developer, to lease the space or sell the structure, without local or federal restriction. Some control exists, however, because three boards must approve a plan presented to them. Theoretically, then, the approval - granting boards can regulate the types of business, more or less indirectly.

Plans, plans, plans. Isn't there just one plan for everyone to follow?

So far, the Housing Authority has a plan called the Land Assembly and Redevelopment plan - this is the one which will be considered at the special town meeting. The Planning Board has an over-all plan for the central area, covering the Urban Renewal section and also adjacent sections of the center of town. The Consumer's Co-Op has a plan, covering the redevelopment of the Urban Renewal area.

Can't the plans be made into a single proposal?

The Housing Authority has been trying to integrate the Planning Board's plan and its own. Agreement has been reached on the site of municipal facilities, which differed on the plans. Parking problems have yet to be ironed out. There also is agreement that street-front construction, with parking to the rear, is desirable. Such items can be controlled, actually, by the Planning Board, because it must approve all plans for construction as presented by a developer.

What about the redevelopment plan?

This one, paid for by the Co-Op and others, is outside the province of the Housing Authority - it is the sort of plan that would, when finished, be presented to the three boards for approval. It will not come before town meeting for approval.

What Our Readers Say—

The following letter has been addressed to the Townsman and is a duplicate of a letter sent to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff. The letter reads:

"I am writing you in regard to the tragic accident on Lovejoy rd. last evening.

"I have not seen a report of the accident but I do think the present traffic arrangement and marking on Lovejoy rd. may well have been a contributing factor.

"People are creatures of habit and a white line painted on a public road indicates one of two things:

"A. In the case of a multi-lane highway, it indicates to a driver that he should stay between two parallel lines.

"B. In the case of narrower roads, a single white line is something to stay on the right hand side of.

"Those of us who are intimately familiar with the Lovejoy rd. situation have come to realize that the white strips as now painted on the roadway are supposed to mark off an area for pedestrians and children that would normally be a sidewalk. However, for someone not familiar with the Lovejoy rd. controversy and especially if driving down Lovejoy rd. at night, a white line painted on the roadway invariably indicates the center line of such a road. It is not unreasonable to believe that a stranger driving on this road at night might well endeavor to stay on the right hand side of such a white line. Thus, it seems to me that the ingredients for a tragedy such as happened last night, are implicit with the present method of marking the road.

"For example, my secretary, who is very familiar with the Lovejoy rd. area, until she found out differently this morning, was under the impression that the white line remained from what had been the center line of the road and that the road itself had been changed but the white line not yet removed or painted out.

"I have never seen a public road painted in this manner and there is nothing to indicate to the non-resident the nature or the reasoning behind such painted lines.

"I might add that there is nothing in the drivers examination for licenses which would indicate the possibility of a road being so painted . . . quite the contrary.

"Another use of a white line as a guide towards the center line of a road is in the situation where the headlights of an oncoming car temporarily blind the driver. I know in such a situation, I instinctively take a quick glimpse at the white line to make sure I am on my half of the road. This might not have been a factor in last night's accident but the risk of such a situation is greatly increased by the present road markings.

"Another aspect of the Lovejoy rd. problem would seem to be the casualness with which children, three, four and five years of age, are allowed by their parents to use the road as a private playground. This seems especially true at the Dascomb rd. end of Lovejoy rd. and as one who uses the road very frequently, I have learned to drive at an extremely low rate of speed for fear of hitting one of the numerous children who are either playing on the road, riding their tricycles, or who seem to dart across the roadway without any warning.

"If this was a crowded, tenement district, one might understand children playing in the road, but with the amount of land surrounding these homes and the open space available, it is difficult to understand why the parents of these children are willing to expose their children to such risks.

"I know of your great concern over this matter and I realize the town has done everything possible to upgrade and widen Lovejoy rd. in view of the added traffic load by reason of the new school, the Country Club, the construction of new homes, etc. and the general growth of that area. It seems unfortunate that the wishes of a few could maintain a status quo in the face of the obvious needs of the community as a whole."

final approval is given.

Mr. Bradford has assured the manager that in approximately three weeks, his department will have completely reviewed the plans, as re-studied by Duffil Associates. They will then be sent to Andover, along with the latest cost estimates.

If local approval is given immediately, once the plans can be scrutinized, the time schedule can be followed for advertising for bids.

Agreements with the Boston and Maine Railroad, for the portion of the work on that firm's property, have been received by the state. Thus negotiation had been going on for some time, the manager explained.

According to Rep. Williams, the only problem visible on the horizon now is the remote possibility that bids will be higher than the available funds. Unless this unexpected event takes place, he foresees construction beginning this year.

PROMISE DECISION ON URBAN RENEWAL

It may be necessary to decide the issue without waiting for the Planning Board to make a recommendation.

He noted that there is always some difficulty in getting all members of the Board of Selectmen together, other than on a meeting night. Thus, he commented, sessions must be held whenever it is possible to have all members present, to get the matter settled.

The Planning Board and Housing Authority also are having their troubles getting together - various members are unable to meet meeting dates and thus there may be some delay in having the scheduled meeting between the two groups. Harold T. King, chairman of the Planning Board, indicated Monday night that a session may be held fairly early in October, when all members can be present.

Most board or committee members want to be present when the discussions are held, because an absence only requires repetition of the material at the next session.

Also yet to be heard from on the subject of Urban Renewal is the Finance Committee. That board has a meeting scheduled with the Housing Authority to go over the financial details, before issuing a recommendation.

Town Yard In Need Of Repairs

The plight of the town highway department, in outmoded and decrepit facilities, was stressed during a discussion of capital expenditures Monday night.

When planning consultants recommended postponing action towards repairing and improving the Lewis st. area until 1966, immediate protests were heard from several officials.

Russell G. Doyle, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, called for more immediate work there. "We buy a $20,000 piece of equipment", he exclaimed, "then let it stand out in the weather".

At the moment, the snow loader, bulldozer and one truck can not be garaged.

Supt. Stanley Chlebowski pointed out the needs of the department, in terms of additional bays on the garage for the storage of equipment, and for the safety of the men.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff was quick to point out that the placement of projects in the capital expenditure program can be changed - and might very well be altered in this case.

William Doherty, present as a member of the School Committee, rose to point out that the town yard "is in an awful hole" and suggested that some more convenient location be found for new buildings. The Lewis st. yard has only one access - down the sharp slope next to the Tyer Rubber Co. warehouse.

However, Mr. Duff noted that efforts are being made to acquire property to give the yard access onto Pearson st., which would allow trucks to cross the railroad tracks onto Railroad st.

An architect is now drawing up projected plans for improvements at the yard, it was explained.

MOONEY NAMED NEW POSTMASTER

applied for the position. There had been countless rumors and much speculation on the political implications attached to the appointment - mainly as to whether a career man in the service would get the position.

Mooney, a resident of 12 Sutherland st., is married to the former Margaret Sullivan. The couple has two children, Alice J., a student nurse at Lawrence General Hospital and Walter F., employed at General Electric.

Mr. Mooney is a member of the American Legion, having served during the Okinawa campaign in World War II. He also is past president and treasurer of the Andover Anglers, and belongs to the National Association of Postal Supervisors. He is a member of St. Augustine's parish.

The spokesman for Senator Smith said official announcement of the appointment, through the post office department, should be forthcoming in about a week, or perhaps less.

Business Meeting About Renewal

Interested merchants and businessmen within the Urban Renewal area have been invited to a business meeting Oct. 1, to discuss possible formation of a corporation to tackle Urban Renewal development.

The meeting, open to all such interested persons, is not open to the public for a general Urban Renewal discussion, nor will it be open to the press, according to Mrs. Dudley Fitts, president of the Co-Op.

She has issued invitations to the session, and has wanted it understood that all interested businessmen are welcome.

From other sources close to the situation, it has been learned that, for the first time, there are some figures available - actually estimates - on construction costs, the price of leased space, etc.

From these same sources it has been understood that a practical method of organization has been worked out.
